The city of Rainier is a small community located on Highway 507 with a significant amount of residential and commercial growth potential. Factors such as the westward expansion of Yelm’s population growth and proximity to Lacey, as well as immediacy to Joint Base Lewis-McChord all have encouraged development in the community. However, the rate of this development has been limited by the City’s reliance on septic systems to treat wastewater. When the community obtains a sewer system, these factors are expected to encourage population and commercial growth within the community.

Existing commercial development in the Downtown Rainier district is primarily located in the community's small walkable downtown located on Binghampton Street (Highway 507), which is easily accessible from several surrounding neighborhoods. Adjacent features such as the Rainier Library, views of Mount Rainier (for which the community is named) and the Yelm to Tenino Trail are valuable amenities in the area.

While some of the factors listed above could help support future development and density, the district has relatively low employment and populations bases, low land values, and a limited amount of commercial development. Compared to the other rural districts, it has a moderate amount of overall redevelopable capacity, although there are a high number of vacant lots.

* All office rental rates reported have been converted to a full service equivalent rental rate, and all retail rates have been converted to triple-net (NNN) equivalent rates.

Rents for the outlying Thurston County market, which includes Rainier, are considerably lower than countywide averages. General retail rents are $7.40 per square foot and office rents are $8.99 per square foot.

General retail vacancies are low, but still higher than the countywide average of 3.3%. Office vacancy is well below the countywide average at 2.9%.

Land Values

Average land value within the district is $2.22 per square foot, with the highest land value along a stretch of Binghampton Street. The Rainier district has the second highest land value of the rural districts. The average land value for all districts is $6.02 per square foot, while the highest is Downtown Olympia at $23.66 per square foot.
Rainier has the second least commercial development of all the districts, with relatively little activity. The most common usage is industrial/warehouse, followed by retail and office.

Nearly all of the building inventory was built before 2000, with the average year built for industrial/warehouse use at 1953, for office use at 1959, and for retail use at 1965.

Rainier has the fifth least redevelopment potential of all of the districts, and is above average compared to other rural districts. There are a number of vacant and redevelopable lots along Binghampton St., including a very large vacant lot between Idaho Ave. and Myers St. SE.

This large vacant lot is a key catalyst site for the community and offers major opportunities for Rainier's future development. The site is 18.28 acres in size and is approximately a block away from Rainier’s downtown at its nearest point. Key additional sites for the community’s future development include vacant lots within the downtown area, as well as areas situated directly southwest and northeast of the district boundary.
Rainier is nearly 16 miles from the nearest I-5 on-ramp, but is easily accessible for residential population growth that has been occurring in the Yelm area. Available traffic data shows that State Route 507 and Minnesota Street have moderate traffic volumes, while Center Street has low traffic volumes." Key traffic issues in the community include resolving how best to address congestion that occurs at the intersections of Minnesota and Centre Street at Binghampton Street (Highway 507) and assure that Highway 507, or another alternate route, maintains sufficient capacity to handle through traffic, while maintaining the walkable nature of downtown Rainier. The City is not served by fixed transit routes.

Transit Routes

Rural and Tribal Transportation provides transit services for the Rainier district. This service requires a call for a ride, and does not operate on fixed transit routes.
