West Olympia

Harrison Avenue has long been an important arterial, serving as the state highway route to the Olympic peninsula and coast before US 101 was constructed in the late 1950s. Today it is a busy local arterial fronted by numerous small businesses that cater to pass-through traffic and adjacent neighborhoods. Businesses on this corridor serve not just the older close-in neighborhoods, but also the vast suburban residential neighborhoods that expand north to Cooper Point. The commercial crossroads at Harrison and Division has attracted some new commercial activity but still has some underutilized parcels. A grocery outlet and numerous eateries and services support residential needs. Parks dot the district, which includes an elementary and middle school. It enjoys high frequency transit service, including direct access to The Evergreen State College, downtown, and Capital Mall. Mixed-use redevelopment would be compatible with adjacent uses. Low-rise buildings of 3-4 stories would command sweeping views of the Olympics and Mt. Rainier.

Close-in neighborhoods are firmly established with limited capacity for infill. They generate significant walk, bike, and transit trips. The lowest single-occupancy vehicle rates in the region are found in this area. What is striking is that these older neighborhoods and arterials are bounded by the region’s largest retail commercial complex, Capital Mall. This creates some traffic tensions, particularly around the holidays. Retrofit of some arterials may help relieve these problems, which result in neighborhood cut-through traffic.

West Olympia has several strong characteristics that support future development and density, including a large population base, strong transit, residential amenities (shopping, parks), proximity to Downtown, and relatively high land values. However, a significant challenge is that the District has low redevelopment capacity, with few buildable acres East of Division Street.
